A Prayer for Peace in a Land of Promise

Daniel Cotzin Burg

Ribono Shel Olam, Sovereign of the World, we turn to you in this agonizing moment of discord and violence, of extremism and mounting mistrust. We know you abhor the suffering of innocents, the weaponization of holy words, the dehumanization of those created in your image.

Makor HaHayim, Source of all Life, we pray for those whose lives are imperiled, for the families of those whose loved ones have been taken from them, for the end of war, of hunger, and suffering.

HaRofeh Lishvarei Lev, Healer of Broken Hearts, our hearts break for fallen Israeli soldiers, for Palestinian and Israeli innocents who have been injured and killed in this terrible conflict. The Psalmist yearns: "Pray for the peace of Jerusalem; May those who love you be at ease. May there be peace within your ramparts, serenity within your citadels."

HaShofet Kol Ha'aretz, Judge of All the Land, frustrate the designs of those who do evil, and fulfill Torah's promise: "I will bring peace to the land, and you shall lie down, and no one shall terrify you. I will rid the land of vicious beasts, and it shall not be ravaged by war" (Lev. 26:6). May the time speedily arrive when the children of Abraham who dwell within this ancient land delight in its bounty and work collaboratively to realize its promise.
